

UPDATE on the CENTENARY May 2010

100

Centenary Camp: Centenary tents are now available to all whether you are camping or not. Available through Girlguiding UK Trading.

Fusion: Brownie sleepover at Fusion still places left on either 3rd or 4th August. Check the fusion website for more information.

Heritage: Story Gathering Project - The Story bank is attempting to capture stories from across the past 100 years. If anyone has been on an Ultimate Adventure please encourage them to add to the Story Bank.

Heritage Exhibitions - ICANDO heritage exhibition is now open with activities available to Units.

Centenary Finale: HQ asks that anyone that is organising a Finale Vision event, that they register the event on the new Vision registration system, which is on the website.

Technical Details - It seems that some areas still don't know about the 20.10 link up and have booked locations without power or internet provisions. Please wherever possible bear in mind that to participate in the link up you will need access to either a laptop or computer with preferably wired broadband connection, projector and a large screen, or a licensed television with Freeview access to the Community Channel.

HQ have now secured the Community Channel for 20.10 broadcast and are investigating whether we can radio involved. However, at present only TV and internet can be used to access the linkup.

Vision activities have published in Guiding, please use these and involve Vision in the Unit programme.

Vision UK Event 20.10 linkup will be focused on Heythrop Park in Oxfordshire.

Centenary Banners: If you wish to hire a banner contact our PRA, County or Commissioner.

Promise Badge: 2010 Promise Badges can be ordered from your Badge depots or trading ready for the final event on October 20th, these badges cost £1.60

Girl Guides DVD: One hundred years of the DVD is now back in stock with Trading.

Royal Mint: Royal Mint 50p Centenary Gift Packs are now available from Trading Service.

Party in the Park - Grimsthorpe 5th June 2010 We have now 3,500 booked in on the day which will be a fun day for all.
